Recent Operations

Need New Bridge In Canal Point—

The bridge across the Hillsborough canal in Belle Glade and the one across the West Palm Beach canal in Canal Point need something done to them. The one in Belle Glade isn't turned as often as the one in Canal Point and naturally traffic isn't tied up. The pile of junk in Canal Point should be replaced with something more efficient. With the engineers using the canal all of the time the bridge is turned often and traffic tied up while the bridge is turned. I've seen four men with bars and other tools sweating and tugging in an effort to close the bridge. I don't know much about bridges but I do believe that some work on the bridge in Canal Point would make it work just as well as the one in Belle Glade. I'm sure it will be in my favor of a new bridge. Anyway, something ought to be done about it.

Much New Building In Glades—

Several new homes are going up in Pahokee and Belle Glade this summer. In Northmore, a sub-division in Belle Glade, there are several to be built on the FHA plan. In Pahokee T. N. Youngblood has just finished a neat little bungalow and J. C. Mock is having a new home built. Out on Bacon Point road Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McIntosh have just moved into a new house. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dechman will move from their Canal Point residence to a brand new home on Bacon Point road. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Waring are having a beautiful home built opposite the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith on the Canal Point and highway.

Pahokee Gets To Sponsor Dance—

Friday night in the Legion pavilion in Pahokee a dance will be held in an effort to raise cash to assist in defraying expenses of the champion Miami Drum and Bugle corps on its trip to the national Legion convention in California. The Legion posts of Pahokee, Belle Glade, Clewiston and Okeechobee are co-operating in sponsoring the dance. An outstanding dance band has been engaged for the affair and members of the four Legion posts are hopeful that a large crowd will be in attendance.

Lake Shore Supply Is Sprucing Up—

Ben Waring, the general manager of the Lake Shore Supply company, has had a crew of men busy this week painting the building and making repairs in order that everything will be set for the opening of the coming season. The loading platform has been rebuilt with new timbers and the coat of paint will make the store one of the bright spots on the Pahokee and Belle Glade road. The store is one of the oldest houses in Pahokee handling farmers' supplies and under the direction of Mr. Waring for the past year or so has been enjoying a growing patronage.

About Football, Rattlesnakes, Bakeries

Business Man Worried About Memory—

I talked to one young business man in Pahokee this week and he worried about his loss of memory. I chatted with him quite a while and didn't see anything in particular wrong with his memory but he explained it in a way so that a child could understand it. It seems that about the middle of the month he received a lot of mail with this note on the bottom: "Evidently this little matter has escaped your memory, etc." He says that he feels sure he is suffering from a loss of memory or he wouldn't be receiving all of these reminders.

Propose New Car To Sell For $300—

I've been very much interested in the announcement coming out of Cincinnati to the effect that a new automobile will be placed on the market soon. It seems that the Crosley Radio corporation is going into the car manufacturing business. Present plans call for manufacture of a two passenger two cylinder car with 60-inch wheelbase to sell under $300. Of course, I realize that I might have to tie myself into a double hard knot to get into one of the things but I know a lot of folks who aren't too far awayed as I am and maybe they can drive one comfortably.

Pahokee Golfers Tounce Port Mayacans—

V. C. Denton and Sam McKinstry of Pahokee have been laying it out on those Port Mayaca golfers right regularly here of late. Or at least that is the story they tell. I'm not sure but I did want to know who Sam and V. C. had been hitting so often. Upon investigation I found out that Bert Lapp and E. G. Kilpatrick were the chaps who have been going down in defeat before Sam and V. C.

Everglades News Boys Find Rattlesnake—

Jake Platt and Fred Jenkins, the mechanical men who manufacture your Everglades News each week, were rabbit hunting last week. But it wasn't a rabbit that they killed. It was a rattlesnake and a big one. The way the boys told me the story was to this effect: The snake was eating a rabbit when he felt something wriggle under his foot. Upon investigating he found he was standing on a rattler. Naturally he was excited but managed to put a bullet through the reptile. Fred came to his assistance and the boys were very careful in the future. The snake was a close call and in the future Jake says he is going to be a little more careful in his meanderings after rabbits. Waring, the general manager.

Mike Hoperich Mounts Black Bass—

Speaking of rattlesnakes reminds me that I saw the skin of one mounted in Denton's store in Pahokee this week. Mike Hoperich is a full fledged taxidermist and he has done an excellent job of mounting the 3-foot 2-inch rattler that Mr. Hoperich caught. The snake was a big one. I'm sure that Mike Hoperich will put the skin on display at the store. He mounted his first black bass mounted hundreds of fish heads in the past but he tried his hand for the first time recently on the complete body.

Athletic Council Issues Statement—

Have you ever stopped to think about how much money it takes to operate a football team? The Athletic Council of the Pahokee Blue Devils? I hadn't given it much thought until this week when I happened by Denton's store and he was completing a financial statement of the Pahokee Athletic Council. It'll amaze you to see the many things that call for cash. The season's budget is $500. The cleaning bill on those pretty blue and white suits was well over the $150 mark. I didn't realize it but this office and the Pahokee printing office are in it. When the season is over the team will have a lot of things that I hadn't even thought of before. Traveling expenses took a big slice out of the gate receipts. New light poles and light bulbs cost a heap of money. Had you ever heard of light bulbs on a field cost more than $500 each? Then there's the doctor's bill and gobs-of-other expenditures.

Books Are Available To Anyone—

And don't think for a minute that the Athletic Council isn't run on a business basis. A complete set of books (available to anyone who wants to see them) will show where every penny came from and where every penny went. I went over the books meticulously and was agreeably surprised in the manner in which records are kept. It calls for a lot of detail work. And it had never dawned upon me before but all of this cash must be gathered together in the short space of time of six hours. Figure it yourself. Six home-games. About an hour of tickets sold each night. That year have your ticket. Six hours. And don't think for a minute that it doesn't take a slick running organization to garner in enough cash in six hours to operate a big time football team for a full season.

Big Time Football Enjoyed In Glades—

And when I say big time football, I mean just that. Suppose that the Pahokee team played teams in towns the size of Pahokee. What grade of football would you have? I can tell you mighty quick. It wouldn't be half as good as the one we have and it wouldn't draw half the cash at the gate. Stop and think for a minute just what sized towns come to Pahokee for games. Fort Myers, West Palm Beach, Sarasota, Fort Pierce, Lake Worth, Miami Beach, and many more. The crowd who engage in pickpocketing with Frank Hobson's Blue Devils. There isn't a town mentioned there that isn't a whole lot bigger than Pahokee. Had you thought of it before?

Hometown Bakery To New Location—

In a few days the Hometown Bakery will move into a new home in Pahokee. Wiley Tillis, the proprietor, recently purchased the building south of the Lake Shore Supply company warehouse and has moved his bakery there. The new building is a two-story structure and will make an ideal place for Wiley to turn out those tasty products. He has had a lot of repair work done on the building and yesterday installed a new oven for pastries only. The large brick oven will be moved to the new location and will be used to bake bread. Wiley is fixing up a dandy place and I'm predicting that his business is going to increase a whole lot when he opens up in his new quarters.

About Politics—Here and Elsewhere

"Dear Alben" Trims Governor "Happy"—

Primary elections are being held in many different parts of the United States and the presidential blessing seems to be working its magic in many places. For instance, last Saturday in Kentucky "Dear Alben" Barkley was swept into the senatorial winning column over Governor Happy Chandler by a 70,000 majority. The triumphant senator, with 25 years of public service behind him, had the okeh of the president. In fact Mr. Roosevelt told Kentuckians that he thought "Dear Alben" would make a much better senator than Governor Chandler. And he told them on Blue Grass soil only a few weeks ago. The magic went again. Charges and counter charges flew thick and fast during the last days of the campaign. Folks even took to their shooting irons in Breathitt county and one senatorial candidate was shot when he was talking to a crowd. A bitter and heated campaign came to a close last Friday night and on Monday of this week Governor Chandler conceded the re-election of Senator Barkley.

Senator George Gets Kick In The Pants—

This week the president went into Georgia where he gave United States Senator Walter F. George a swift kick in the seat of the pants. Records show that Mr. George has not seen eye to eye with the president in many cases—therefore the senatorial purge in Georgia. Lawrence Camp is the fair-haired boy of the administration in this particular battle. He has received the presidential blessing. But, Gene Talmadge is also in the race. And wouldn't some faces in Washington be red if the president should endorse Camp openly against George, and Talmadge should squeeze through the primaries as the winner. Talmadge doesn't hold any love for the administration and things would pop sure enough if he should be a dark horse winner. My Georgia informants tell me that Walter F. George will be re-elected in September on the basis of his record. Mr. Camp receives at the hands of the president. Senator George has an enviable record behind him as a free thinker and efficient steward of his constituents. He will be a hard man to trim in the coming primary.

Florida Politicians Tame With Talk—

I thought I heard a lot of harsh statements made several months back when we had 14 candidates for governor. I thought I heard some harsher ones a few months ago when we had a senatorial campaign. But up in Tennessee they get right down to business. The Memphis talking about the election of E. M. Crump, the Memphis political boss, issued a circular in which he referred to Governor Gordon Browning, candidate for re-nomination, in this manner: "What an eminent two-faced hypocrite. What a traitor!" In the get together of Paris there are 27 pictures of Judas Iscariot. None look alike but all resemble Gordon Browning.

Tampa Daily Wants Gillis As Governor—

And right here in our own state a governor can't get sick for a few weeks without someone wanting to oust him from his job. A Tampa daily says that D. Stuart Gillis, president of the state senate, should go to Tallahassee and take over the gubernatorial duties while Governor Fred P. Cone is ill in a Jacksonville hospital. I'm offering no opinion in the matter for there are a lot of big shots in the state who are able to decide the matter without my help. But, as long as Fred Cone is governor I'm guessing that he is going to be governor. There is no doubt about Senator Gillis' ability. He would make an efficient governor. His ideas don't coincide with Governor Cone's. There are many who think that Gillis is a better man for the job. But, reports coming from the Jacksonville hospital are to the effect that Governor Cone is fast regaining his health and ere the passing of many weeks he will be back on the job.

Palm Beach Man May Make State Race—

Speaking of governors reminds me that I've got a candidate for that job in 1940. It is none other than the affable Jimmy Owens of Palm Beach. I tried my darndest to get Jimmy to run for congress in the past primary but he wouldn't do it. Recently he has been getting some excitement and has been elected to the state senate. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if he couldn't be elected if he made the race. That is if 14 other candidates didn't pop up in South Florida to split the vote. Some of these days those of us who live in the great City of Stuart might get solidly behind one man for governor and then see that he is elected. It can be done, you know.

Power Company Is Extending Lines—

Day by day the service of the Florida Power and Light company is being extended to rural customers in the Lake Okeechobee region. This week officials of that company have announced that an extension of the power lines is being built to serve 12 or 15 customers in the colored section a mile and a quarter west of South Bay. A fine two and one-half miles in length is being built from the Baldpate subdivision to the great City of Stuart. Power will be furnished to the sugar company. Recently other extensions were made into rural sections and ere the passing of many years the entire Lake Okeechobee farming region will have electricity at its fingertips.

About This and That—Also the Weather

Rainfall 14 Inches Behind Last Year—

About this time of the year I get interested in the amount of rainfall we've had. I look over the records year after year and find that we have only 21.22 inches of rainfall since the first day of January. Looking further into the records I find that last year on this very same date we had had 35.72 inches. There is a difference of about 14 inches and it still to come will slow up some of the early planting. A lot of the boys are making ready to put in early crops. I don't know whether they've looked at the rainfall records or not. Anyway, it may come this month or it may come in September. Anyway, it will probably get here sometime.

Will Perfect Automatic Hamper Counter—

In Belle Glade P. C. Keese has one of the largest packing houses and his platform superintendent, Clyde Doolittle, is always thinking up some new trick to save time and money. Clyde's latest idea is an automatic counter to count bean hamper as they go along the endless chain of the car. I saw him with it with some kind of a counting machine and he was scratching his head in an effort to devise some efficient manner in which to gear it up. A rough pencil sketch leads one to believe that it wouldn't do the work. The hamper will be put on the car, will pass through a lightly constructed turnstile on which will be mounted the counter. Presto! An accurate count will be kept of every car loaded at the Keese platform during the coming season.

Hyacinth Picker Upper Is Tried Out—

The hyacinth picker upper, built by the U. S. Engineers in Jacksonville, was tried out for the first time last Friday afternoon. I predicted that it wouldn't do the work satisfactorily and my prediction is true. I talked to one of the chaps in charge and he said that some improvements will have to be made before it will be okay. I'm guessing that a lot of improvements will be necessary. But that thing will be tried. The way it operates now it will work three men to death pulling hyacinths onto the elevator. A motor boat is used to push the hyacinths up where the boys can get hold of them with pitchforks. After a thorough test in the West Palm Beach canal, the U. S. Engineers will be asked to the engineers' office in Clewiston where the necessary improvements will be made. I'm hoping that the engineers can make it operate successfully. The hyacinth problem is a real one in South Florida. Drainage and irrigation both suffer on account of hyacinths and it is high time that some real money is being spent on an eradication program.

Agricultural Teacher Receives Honors—

W. Harper Kendrick, Vocational agricultural teacher in Glades schools, was one of 12 teachers in Florida to be elected and given bids to Alpha Tau Alpha, a national honorary agricultural fraternity. These teachers were selected at the state agricultural teachers' conference in Daytona Beach this week and their honors came about as a result of their rating as teachers. They were initiated Tuesday night at a banquet given by the Alpha Tau Alpha fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick are in the Glades schools and will return to their Pahokee home this week-end.

Baptist Churches Pay As They Build—

Work on the Canal Point Missionary Baptist church is well along. A little more cash is needed and those who have given of their cash and labor are hopeful that others will come through in the next few weeks so that the building can be completed before the hurricane season brings rains. The Baptist church is to be put on. A beautiful building it is and the congregation has paid for the building thus far. Both congregations are to be congratulated upon their efforts.

Welatka Helps To Swell Payroll—

The dredge Welatka is operating on the east shore of Lake Okeechobee. Right now there are more than 100 men on the payroll and any time you think it doesn't seem big, during the summer you're all wet. Uncle Sam is a regular paymaster. Then we have the road going on between Pahokee and Canal Point and between Pahokee and Belle Glade. Dozens and dozens of fellows are gainfully employed on the road. The WPA work instigated by County Commissioner Doyle Crocker on Bacon Point road and the Hillsborough canal in Belle Glade. That helps to fill the dinner baskets in the community during the lull between the vegetable seasons. If Glades merchants are crying because of slow business what would they have done without the Welatka, the road work and the WPA projects?

Wage Hearing In Moore Haven

Bean growers, farmers, truckers and representatives of the United States Sugar corporation all joined in voicing vigorous disapproval of any increase in the wage scale for agricultural labor in the sugar industry at a hearing held in Moore Haven Tuesday. The AAA officials to gather facts and information as a basis for determining wage scale to be set by the Department of Agriculture for sugar workers in this section.

While the wage scale set for sugar workers does not apply to agricultural workers in other types of farming operations, growers attending the hearing pointed out that the wages they were forced to pay to hold their help during the growing and harvesting season was largely determined by the scale maintained by the sugar corporation. And that the present high wage scale was in itself a serious handicap while any increase would force many of them out of business.

Government officials conducting the hearing were: Garfield L. Gaudin, regional economist; Robert Shields, of the solicitor's office; and Olaf Wakefield, assistant agricultural economist, of the AAA division of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sugar corporation officials expressed no objection to present wage scale and pointed out that workers in this area were better paid than those of Louisiana and other sugar producing sections and were well satisfied with present wages and working conditions.

The United States Sugar corporation, called particular attention to the fact that the present wage scale set by the department for Louisiana workers was lower than that required for Florida workers which was under and urged that the scale in Louisiana be raised to equal that paid Florida workers.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
By Russell Kay

Daytona Beach. There may be some folks who might need to ponder over Mr. Dale Carnegie's famed volume on "How to Make Friends and Influence People" but these folks who are in Daytona Beach knew all the answers before Dale even thought up the question.

I don't know anywhere in the world where a country boy can just right in and feel as much at home as in about a mile from the city. Take me for instance, I picked the family in the gasoline co-op, piles and piles of luggage bric-a-brac, the family dog on top of 'em and telegraph editor Fitzgerald of the Observer and the hamper. Reports that I was on the way and ask him to see if he can help 'em find an old piano box or deserted shack along the beach somewhere as shelter and I'll follow 'em over as soon as the laundry brings back my other shirt.

Well, Pitts goes down to the City Hall and tells 'em a tramp newspaper guy is comin' and suggests that instead of tramping through the city with the "keys to the city" which is an old gag anyhow why not meet him at the city gates where the key to a beach cottage is held.

The commissioners liked the idea, but they didn't have any occupied cottages laying' around. The commissioners of the City of Daytona Beach decided to take the argument about the city try to rent one by offerin' to turn his home over to the city. The city of Daytona Beach decided to take the argument about the city try to rent one by offerin' to turn his home over to the city.

The only trouble with Daytona Beach is that there's a lot of people who never know when to stop being nice to a guy. Here they no more than get me parked conveniently in a cozy cottage that they begin tryin' to keep me away from it by providin' so much to do, so many things to go to, and such interestin' and pleasin' engagements and entertainment, that a guy don't have a chance to much more than change clothes in it and maybe knock off a wink of sleep now and then.

Dunin' the day they are continually pullin' off beach picnics, parties, golf matches, bathing parties, fishin' excursions, sight-seein' trips, entertainin' cocktail parties, tennis and hand ball games, baseball games and a lot of similar stunts while every evening affords opportunities for frolic and frolic on the boardwalk with band concerts, bathing beauty reviews, bingo, carnival attractions, games, contests and whatnot—lots of 'em fun and none you want to miss. So before you know it you find yourself away behavin' in your sleep, but it sure takes your mind off your worries and even if it is strenuous it is the most wonderful vacation in the world.

There was a time when the Ocean was the principal attraction over here, but now a fellow is hard pressed to find time for a dip for they have a chap named Charlie Herring who is entitled Recreation Director, and Charlie spends his time sittin' round with his feet on the desk thinkin' up stunts to entertain Daytona Beach guests and I'll say that boy has an imagination that would make Jules Verne look like a total loss. Every day he pulls some thing new and neat of 'em and makes 'em funnier. His Professor Quig programs at the band shell on Friday nights are "rarin' to go" and he is pulled off a "Male Beauty Contest" that left the spectators hangin' on the ropes and gaspin' for breath.

I can remember the time when the mosquitoes used to be in charge of the entertainment program, but that's all changed now. I've been here a week and have only encountered one lone mosquito. The boys and girls have been delightfully cool and constant Ocean breezes temper the atmosphere. I got in one day's takin' this week and came home with a mass of

DAYTONA BEACH IS WELL PATROLLED
DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 11.—(FNS)—Nine lifeguard tower bathing areas here attracted 12,427 bathers during the day of August 11, according to a report by A. M. Boland, director of the Daytona Beach Red Cross Life Saving Corps.

The report listed 153,422 bathers, 326 first aid cases, 35 accidents and rescues from the surf, with no drownings.

Daytona Beach is probably the best patrolled beach in the state and presents a doubly difficult safety problem due to the heavy motor traffic on the beach and the amazing record of no drowning and no serious accident is a credit indeed not only to the efficient Life Saving Corps of the Red Cross but to the police department as well, for their phalanx of patrolmen work in regulating traffic and protecting children at play along the beach is equally important. They are not only for efficiency in their work but for their courteous treatment of visitors and motorists in a friendly manner that gets results and leaves no ill will.

Residential Fires Take Annual Toll Of $100,000,000

Modern American Home More Fire-Safe Today Than Ever Before

Although the modern American home is more fire-safe than it has ever been in its history, residential fires annually take a property damage toll in this country of more than $100,000,000.

Among the chief causes of fires according to the National Fire Protection Association, are roof sparks, misuse of electricity, faulty chimneys, faulty stoves, furnaces and boilers.

Chimney fires, for instance, in 1936, caused a loss of $10,450,000; misuse of electricity, $27,549,000; furnaces, boilers and stoves, $22,280,000; and sparks on roofs, $12,400,000. One of the largest single losses is that caused by exposure, or the result of fire started outside the property.

Flames and sparks leaving from one building to the roof of another caused an annual average loss in this category of over $20,000,000.

Fire-protective Materials
To combat this tremendous loss in the building industry has within recent years made a number of fire-resistant and fire-protective materials available to all home owners. Briefly, they are: 1. Flexible armored electrical cable. 2. Fire-resistant lath and plaster. 3. Greater control of flame sources in heating and cooking equipment such as automatic fueling of heating plants and shielded-top cooking stoves. 4. Fire clay lining for chimneys that resist the corrosive action of fire gases and the accumulation of soot and other unburned materials in the chimney. 5. The use of fire-resistant mineral wool insulation in side walls and second floor ceilings that, in addition to fully insulating the house against summer heat and winter cold, acts as an effective barrier against the spread of fire from floor to floor. 6. The use of fire-resistant roofing materials, such as mineral surfaced asphalt shingles. 7. The insulation of all smoke pipes and chimneys and through the walls of an existing house to replace dangerous exposed wiring. New, more efficient heating equipment may also be installed that will shortly pay for itself in fuel savings and increased comfort. Mineral wool insulation may be blown into the walls, forming a wall-thick blanket of fire-proof protection around all outside framing members and electric conduits, fire-resistant asphalt shingles can be easily and inexpensively laid directly over most unsafe or worn out roofs.

Safety Can Be Built In
Many of these fire-protective materials may be installed in already-built houses. Armored electric cable, for instance, can easily be threaded through the walls of an existing house to replace dangerous exposed wiring. New, more efficient heating equipment may also be installed that will shortly pay for itself in fuel savings and increased comfort. Mineral wool insulation may be blown into the walls, forming a wall-thick blanket of fire-proof protection around all outside framing members and electric conduits, fire-resistant asphalt shingles can be easily and inexpensively laid directly over most unsafe or worn out roofs.

Lime growing is developing into an important Florida industry. Production has reached such volume that an organization of lime growers is being formed for better production and marketing.

Last season's lime crop was 115,000 bushels.

plus a dose of sunburn and a blistered thumb, but that's all a part of the game and the only thing that worries me right now is the thought that sooner or later I'll have to go back to work and I know when that happens it's gonna be a pretty hard to take!

Home Owner Saves One-Third of Dollar

The average American tenant could save 1-3 of every dollar he spends on the landlord if he owned his own home.

Statistics show that the total money spent in one year by the average home owner on taxes, interest on the mortgage, repairs and upkeep is only two thirds as much as the rent paid by non-homeowners at the same income levels.

These figures are based on a twelve month survey of 9,000 families in 140 small communities conducted by the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in its national wide family-living study.

Regional Variances
The difference between the cost of renters and owners varied considerably for families at different income levels and in different sections of the country. In the Pacific coast states, the average cost of maintaining a home for a family in the less than $4,000 annual income bracket ranged from $4 to $12 per family. This amounted to only 50 per cent of the average rent paid by a family in the same income group which averaged $3 to $23.

The Mountain and Plains regions showed the greatest differential between the cost of renters and owners.
